Foreword by Acting Principal Glen College of Agriculture

Greetings to prospective applicants,

Welcome to the 2025 applications season which essentially kicks off as of this second week of September 2024 running until the closing date on 30 November 2024.

The college has put in efforts to ensure that this process is user-friendly, seamless and efficient for applicants, parents and or guardians as can be.

Applicants must make it a point to read through and understand every page of the application form. Pay special attention to compliance matters relating to qualifying matric (NSC) results to obtain a score of 22 points before returning the forms for processing. Applicants completing their matric in 2024 must apply using their June/September results.

The college has limited space for first year in-take and can only accept not more than 75 successful applications.

We wish you all applicants the best.

Yours in public service
